Life Insurance Carriers can now Improve their Form Filing Processes . . .

Actuarial Risk Management, Ltd (“ARM”) has developed a services program to help life insurance organizations optimize their product filing programs by streamlining the way companies prepare and file their product forms with the state insurance jurisdictions. This service is designed for those life insurers which continually do not receive approvals of their policy forms and supplementary filings within an acceptable time frame. Our enhanced process – called “The Compliance ARM™” – guarantees to improve carriers’ speed-to-market objectives.

Sherry Wommack, Director, Compliance, comments "This offering will transform life insurers’ procedures and processes in the area of product form filing. The industry is plagued with product development initiatives that consistently miss deadlines due to various cost overruns and state filing approval slow downs. These services will help carriers implement new approaches that translate to consistent deadlines, lower filing fees, and enhanced market share.”

Corwin Zass, the founder of Actuarial Risk Management, Ltd, adds "Our firm continues to bring unique solutions to organizations. This service offering for the life sector enables ARM to inject insight on both sides of the compliance equation. Combining the expertise of our senior actuaries with that of our seasoned compliance specialists produces an effective business process allowing us to either supplement internal staff or allow a carrier to outsource all phases of the compliance process, including drafting, filing, and reporting. Our delivery optimizes the form development and filing process.”

ARM’s Compliance Solutions have earned the trust of fraternal, mutual and stock insurance carriers of all sizes. The firm’s track record speaks for itself and its clients continue to appreciate the unique business model that solves enterprise wide problems with creative risk mitigating solutions.

Actuarial Risk Management, Ltd. is an Austin-based consulting and advisory firm focused on solving risk management problems with a combination of actuarially and non-actuarially themed solutions for private and public organizations.
